In the story Tomass said “I couldn’t help drifting back into the dream about us flying together.”

If it could take a flight on your pet dragon, where would you fly? What would you see on the way? Create a map showing your dragon flight, it will start and end at your home. Show some of the places you fly over, people you might see. When you get to your destination what do you do? Do you fly home the same way or a different way seeing other places? Add pictures and key words to your map. Save your map for tomorrow!

Story

Time

Watch Miss Bolton read chapter 15 of ‘The Boy Who Grew Dragons’.

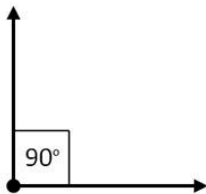

Maths

You are going to go on another hunt but this time you are to find right angles. Either download and print a right angle finder or you can make your own. You might even want to use your own fingers as the right angle finder.

Take pictures or draw the right angles that you find- remember that right angles are exactly 90 degrees.
